

are sponsoring a

Quantum Learning for Students Residential Leadership Camp

hosted on the campus of

Drake University

for GEAR UP students from June 29 - July 1, 2011.

Quantum Learning for Students is based on more than 30 years experience and research with more than 8 million students and 55,000 educators across the U.S. Leadership Camps are a place of non-stop work and play, learning and growing, academic strategies, and fun challenges. Led by fun, dynamic Quantum Learning facilitators, your days will be filled with hours of intense discovery and inspiration. This program will provide a strong foundation for future scholastic work and life experience, empowering students to become lifelong learners.

As a result of this program, students will:

- Develop leadership and team-building potential.
- Build a basic foundation for personal effectiveness through the 8 Keys of Excellence.
- Gain renewed confidence and inspiration, emerging from a sense of teamwork.
- Master interpersonal communication strategies.
- Learn creative thinking, problem-solving, and goalsetting skills.
- Gain a sense of trust in others and a true feeling of accomplishment.
- Learn powerful memorization, note-taking and mind mapping skills.
- Enhance their ability to learn, retain, and recall information with inspiring strategies that enable students to take ownership of their education.
- Learn empowering strategies to become valued peers and family members, and successful citizens of the global community.

Studies show after Quantum Learning:

- 68% increase motivation
- 73% improve grades
- 81% develop more confidence
- 84% increase self-esteem
- 98% continue to use skills

The Quantum Learning for Students Residential Leadership Camp -- a partnered venture among Quantum Learning, Drake University, Des Moines Public Schools GEAR UP, and GEAR UP Iowa -- will empower GEAR UP students with tools to utilize while navigating their pathway to post-secondary success.
